FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 26, 1890.

GRAIN STANDARDS.

An order in Council has been passed appointing a Board for the selection of grain grown west of Port Arthur. The meeting will be held in Winnipeg on October 1st. The Board is composed of the following gentlemen who will represent and look after the interests of their respective districts:—Winnipeg, R. P. Roblin, A. A. Mitchel, S. A. McGaw and D. Horn; Port Arthur, T. E. Gibbs and A. Squier; Brandon, Kenneth Campbell; Regina, J. D. Sibbald; Moose Jaw, T. B. Baker; Qu'Appelle, S. C. Elkington; Portage la Prairie, George C. Hall. The selection of standards by which western grain shall be graded, is very important and should receive the careful attention of the representatives. Last season the system, although much better than in previous years, did not give entire satisfaction to the farmers and grain dealers in the west, and it is hoped that all defects will be remedied. We would like to see the farmers who produce the grain have some voice in the fixing of the Standards by which their grain is judged.

IMMIGRATION

An important step has been decided on by the Dominion Government in connection with Immigration matters. A number of practical farmers, having large experience, and thorough knowledge of the country will be sent to Europe as Emigration agents, to make known the resources and advantages of Canada as a field for Emigration. This is a move in the right direction, and if proper men are selected, one that will be productive of much good. As far as possible, men who have come from the different countries of Europe, and been successful here, should be sent as agents to their native land, to tell among their friends and fellow countrymen, their actual experience since coming to this country. Canada has nothing to fear in the competition for Emigrants if the facts about the country are told. There are thousands of people leaving the shores of England, Ireland and Scotland every year to seek their fortunes in new countries, that could be induced to come to Canada if they had fuller reliable information regarding the country. The great need of Canada at the present time is men, and women too, to develop the untold wealth of our farms, forests, and mines. As Mr. Spier, one of the British delegates, said at the banquet in Winnipeg, to Sir Hector Langevin, "Canada has plenty of land; the old countries have plenty of men and money, and he suggested that one might be made a valuable adjunct to the other." These British delegates are now in Canada, at the invitation of the Canadian Government to inquire into the Agricultural resources of the country, the manufacturing and fishing industries, the mining prospects, the climate, the social condition of the people, and other matters relating to the country, and on their return home will give to the British people the result of their investigations. Canada is now in a position to extend a hearty welcome to the people of every land, who are willing to drop the old world prejudices, and unite as Canadians in building up and developing a nation on the broad lines of Anglo Saxon institutions. To the immigrant from the British Isles, we can offer a free home, "citizenship in a free country where there are no class distinctions," and at the same time they can feel that they have not renounced their allegiance to the old flag, of which every loyal Canadian is proud. We can invite the thousands of disappointed Canadians in the United States to return to the land of their birth, which they were forced by the press of circumstance of other days to leave, assuring them that Canada has developed into a nation since their departure that is the peer of any country in the world. The Immigration outlook at the present time is particularly bright, and in the general influx of desirable settlers, every part of the Dominion will be mutually benefited. Let there be a healthy rivalry but no local jealousy between the several sections of the country, each endeavoring to secure as many as possible, without saying anything in disparagement of other places.

THE NORTH WEST FACTOR.

The development of Greater Canada has been so rapid and satisfactory that already is becoming a potent factor in the social, religious and political life of the Dominion. The prairie lands which, a few years ago, were considered to be unfit for anything save the grazing of a few head of cattle, are now bearing on their bosom the golden grain rich in its profusion and still more abundant in promise. The vast extent of territory for centuries, undeveloped, is now being made accessible to men of enterprise through the building of railroads, and already centres of civilization are being established in the most favored spots where nature has lavished her gifts in abundance. The resident of the North West for the past ten years, who takes an intelligent outlook upon the progress of the decade, must stand bewildered at its advancement. Some of us have lived for eleven years in this prairie land, who can remember when the nearest post office was two hundred and twenty five miles distant, and that in Montana. American stamps were used by us, and only through the courtesy of the Mounted Police did we receive our mail. Mediced men were rare creatures to gaze upon, sometimes we enjoyed their services, and then there were times when there would not be one closer to us than three hundred miles. Spiritual advisers were few. Northward there was one at a distance of one hundred and fifty miles; southward there was another at a distance of two hundred and twenty-five miles; eastward through the fertile belt and Manitoba not a Missionary was to be found for seven hundred miles, and westward nearly a thousand miles could we travel to the Pacific Coast before a preacher of righteousness was to be found. All around us at the present time ministers of numerous Christian denominations are to be found. In those days there was not a distinct school for white children in the North West, because there were not white children throughout the whole country to establish a single school, and now there are nearly two hundred white schools under the Government, several private schools, a large number of Indian schools, and other institutions of an educational character. If the development of the country should be as rapid as in the past decade, what may we expect in a few years? The signs of the times predict more extensive advancement, than the North West has ever seen. The land areas of the provisional districts are so large that the imagination is unable to picture the cities, railroads and other tokens of development which are sure to follow within the next ten or fifteen years.

True, it is mere fancy, but it is based upon the experience of the past.

The development of a country implies political power. The greater the progress of civilization, the larger the number of political leaders, and the more extensive becomes the grasp of power and the boldness of argument.

In a few years the North West must not, will not be a territory lacking responsible government, but there will be provinces, each having its own parliament and controlling its own affairs. The growth of a province or section of country attracts the attention of politicians, and increases the influence of the local leaders in politics. Greater interest has been taken in the North West within the past three years, than at any previous time in her history—and as the years roll on this will increase. The relation of her development to Dominion politics is very strong, and the cord will become still more firmly united. The population of the North West is of a heterogeneous character, and the representatives of different nationalities residing in the country are conversant first with politics as affecting the North West and their opinions developing locally, which they were forced by the press of circumstance of other days to leave, assuring them that Canada has developed into a nation since their departure that is the peer of any country in the world. The Immigration outlook at the present time is particularly bright, and in the general influx of desirable settlers, every part of the Dominion will be mutually benefited. Let there be a healthy rivalry but no local jealousy between the several sections of the country, each endeavoring to secure as many as possible, without saying anything in disparagement of other places.

FIRE ! FIRE ! FIRE !

Editor of TIMES,

It is plain to be seen from the report of last Council meeting as given in the Times of the 19th inst., that our City Fathers have decided to drop the fire protection scheme entirely; after discussing this matter upwards of 9 months, and making a pet scheme of it, no doubt they feel a little sore because the majority of the ratepayers decided against. Yet that is no reason why they should go on now and expend the people's money in the manner they propose doing. No doubt the building of sidewalks will be a benefit to a part of the town, particularly to some of the members of the council. But when men of such large (?) understanding as our august council (with one exception) undertake, at this time of the year, to throw away money grading and graveling the streets, the conclusion generally arrived at is, that there's something in it. No man nor party of men who have the interest of a town at heart, would undertake at this season of the year (and more particularly as the season has been so wet, and as yet remains unsettled) to do grading and graveling, and they will, I think, find that the majority of the ratepayers will so decide at the coming election. The sidewalk that they wish to build are not a necessity, and we can do without them for two or three years to come. The work as outlined by them, will cost two or three thousand dollars and will take every penny the town has in its treasury at the present time, and the council will have the notion of turning over to their successors an empty cash box, as was predicted by two of their number when the water-by-law was defeated, thus making it impossible for their successors in office, to secure for the town, fire protection and water. Mr. Editor, when this threat was made, it was thought to be an idle one, and that it did not voice the majority of the council, but developments since then show that these two councillors (though they are the weaker two of the lot) did voice the sentiments of the erring majority and that the town will be made to suffer for having dared to defeat the water measure proposed by them. It is a well known fact that without a treasury surplus, we cannot hope to secure water works for the town. The rate of taxation is now as high as we can conveniently bear, and will not be less until after the outstanding school debts are paid, twenty years hence. We must have water, and we must have fire protection, and the only way we will be able to secure them is by holding what money is in the town's hands now, for that purpose. The taxpayers will surely not allow this misuse to be made of their money without a vigorous protest, either by petition or by a public meeting, and thus show the councillors that they are not carrying out the will of their constituents. I call upon all good citizens to give this matter a serious thought, as upon it depends the future growth and welfare of our town. Thanking you for the space, CITIZEN.

on any fire in ten minutes after the alarm was given. The cost of maintaining such a system would be trifling. If a volunteer fire company was got up it would cost nothing only for fuel. The town of Harriston, Ont., pays $227 with 11 paid men; Listowel with 14 men costs $300 per year. Again, the system advocated by the council was not, in any way, going to reduce our insurance rate, when by putting in a Brussels Steam Fire Engine they will guarantee a reduction of from 25 to 30 per cent. or no sale. This Company will also accept our debentures bearing 5 or 6 per cent. for fifteen or twenty years at par. These are facts that can be proved. Brandon has just got a new engine from this Company and it was tested there a few days ago and gave entire satisfaction. The water was thrown 300 feet from 1½ in. smoothbore nozzle, and with about 900 feet of hose two streams were thrown over 120 feet high out of same sized nozzle. This engine is much larger than would be required in our town, it costs $4,800. But for about $2,800 an engine can be got from this Company and probably other companies that would give us a good fire protective system. If space would permit I would like to give you the difference of cost to the town of this system and the one proposed by the council, and the advantage in case of fire. In conclusion I would say that if our council would use what surplus money they have in putting a good steam engine and equipments of the description, it would be more to their credit than to go throwing mud on the streets as this season of the year, building sidewalks to their own doors, and paying our town Artist for photographing. Much more to their credit would it be to spend a few dollars distributing the 1000 or 1200 pamphlets lying now in the Times office, than in photographing residences of private citizens. And there might be something in it. Thank you for your space, I am yours etc., M. A. T.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

Editor of the TIMES:

I note in the last issue of your paper what the permanent improvements are that the town council purpose making, and regret that they have undertaken so much. It is true that the street crossings need graveling, but beyond that the improvements that they have in view, would do as well next summer especially is this true of the street grading. The sidewalks that they wish to build are not a necessity, and we can do without them for two or three years to come. The work as outlined by them, will cost two or three thousand dollars and will take every penny the town has in its treasury at the present time, and the council will have the notion of turning over to their successors an empty cash box, as was predicted by two of their number when the water-by-law was defeated, thus making it impossible for their successors in office, to secure for the town, fire protection and water. Good News!

No one, who is willing to adopt the right course, need be troubled with boils, carbuncles, pustules, or other cutaneous eruptions. These are the results of Nature's efforts to expel poisons and evil matter from the blood, and show plainly that the system is ridding itself through the side of the body. What is to be done is legitimate work of the inner organs to expel the impurities. Take these ergs to the Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the medicine required. That no other blood-purifier can compare with it, thousands testify who have gained from the tyranny of depraved blood by the use of this medicine.

"For nine years I was afflicted with a skin disease that did not yield to any remedy until a friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took it in small doses at first, and the complaint disappeared. It is my belief that no other blood medicine could have effected so rapid and complete a cure."—Andres D. Garcia, C. Victoria, Tamaulipas, Mexico.

"My face, for years, was covered with pimples and sores, for which I could find no remedy till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Three bottles of it a day put the medicine effect a thorough cure. I confidently recommend it to all suffering from similar troubles."—M. Parker, Concord, Vt.

The buildings have been painted and present a handsome appearance, while the interior of those that require it are now ready for the plasterers. The grounds in and about the station are being fast levelled up and made passable, and on what a few weeks ago was a solid grove of poplar may now be seen many buildings, railroad tracks in all directions, numberless cars in all description, with locomotives hooting and tooting and running in and out of the town and presenting the most lively scene in our town today. The transformation is complete.

TWO SPRING FLOWERS

To the Editor of the Times,

In the past few days I have found in flower, the wild Strawberry, Fragaria Virginiana, and the Pasque or Easter Flower, Anemone Paeonia, miscalled by some, the Crocus. The former sometimes produces a second crop of flowers not often of fruit; but the latter is very surprising, always showing its large, purplish, quickly-fading flowers, while the snow still lingers and then sending up its leaves, the whole plant quickly running its course and disappearing from notice. The specimen found had no root leaves, as if it were a real harbinger of spring. May not this unusual appearance of spring flowers betoken a season of summer after our sifting of snow a week ago?

It is reported that the North West Assembly will be called together for the despatch of business, early in November.

Tracklaying on the Calgary and Edmonton railway has commenced. Fifty miles of the grading is completed.

Lethbridge will apply to the next session of the North West Assembly, for incorporation as a town.

The Dominion Millers' Association estimates the wheat yield of the Dominion for 1890 at 40,300,000 bushels. The requirements for food, seed, etc., are placed at 29,975,000 bushels, leaving a surplus for exportation of 10,325,000. The wheat crop of Canada this year is estimated to be 13,000,000 bushels more than last year.

In the year 1889, there were 3,567 murders committed in the United States. Only 92 of the murderers were legally executed and 175 were lynched. One murderer in every twenty seven suffers the legal penalty for his crime.

The Spokane Falls Review remarks: "Does it ever occur to the reader that our language is utterly destitute of a word that tellskin itself that a man is a citizen of the United States? We are Americans. That is true but some Canadians and so are Mexicans, and so is every other inhabitant of the American continent, North and South. We say that a man is a Missourian, a Virginian, a Tennessean—only a few of the latter—but in order to convey the impression that he is a citizen of the United States we have to employ a roundabout method. The nearest approach we have to a national term is in the word "Yankees". That may be agreeable to our transcontinental friends from New England but it is hardly suited to a Westerner who was never east of the Mississippi river. The conditions are such that we shall probably be compelled to go on calling ourselves Americans, and trust to time to compel our Northern and Southern neighbors to leave us alone with the glory of that name."

The following illustrates Canada's position among the nations of the world:

Canada is first in canal development. Second in the production of copper. Third in area.

Fifth in mercantile marine.

Eighth in railway mileage.

Ninth among coal producing nations.

Tenth in the production of iron.

This is all in wealth produced. In undeveloped wealth the Dominion takes a still higher position as compared with other countries.

The largest deposits of coal in the world are in the North West.

The richest petroleum beds are along the Mackenzie and Athabasca.

The greatest copper mine is at Sudbury.

The best iron ore is in Nova Scotia, and Canada as a whole possesses a supply sufficient for the whole world.

The Methodist General Conference, now in session in Montreal have decided not to fill the vacancies caused by the death of General Superintendent Williams. The motion to extend the term of the pastorate to five years was defeated, also the motion to establish another of Deaconesses. A motion has been introduced that the Conference insists that all officials of the church, lay and clerical, abstain from the use of tobacco in every form. The clause in the Discipline, relating to amusements will also be revised.

An agreement has been arrived at between the Maritime Prohibition party, the Dominion Alliance and Canada's new party, uniting the whole temperance element for political action. Prohibition candidates, independent of party allegiance, will be put forward in every possible constituency in the coming election.

The great Peter Cooper is credited with the following:—In all towns where newspapers are published every man should advertise, even if nothing more than a card giving his name and the business in which he is engaged. It not only pays to advertise, but it lets the people at a distance know that the town in which you reside has a prosperous class of business men. Never pull down the sign while you intend doing business for it often indicates that your grip, commercially is broken.
